1987-88

“Queen

Diana Carol Santifer was crowned the 1987-88 Homecoming Queen on October 23, 1987. She is a 17 year old senior born September 2, 1970. She is the youngest of five brothers and sisters. Diana is in her fourth year here at Inglewood High School. During her 9th grade year, she was crowned princess of the Freshman class on the 1984-85 Court. She was also crowned Warren Lane Jr. High School's first queen.

This year Diana holds the position as one of the Commissioners of Rallies and Assemblies on our St. Council. After high school, Diana plans to attend college and become a successful business woman.

We congratulate you, Diana, and wish you much success in your future!

Diana''

Senior Princess Georgina Frayre

(HOMECOMING
TRY-OUTS)

Georgina Frayre was one of the three senior princesses on the 1987-88 Homecoming Court. Born in Los Angeles February 1, 1970, Georgina moved to Mexico at a very early age and stayed there until she was ten years old.

Some of her hobbies are listening to music, dancing, traveling and horseback riding. She also enjoys exquisite meals and quiet places. Her life ambition is to become a well educated and sophisticated woman. Georgina was escorted by Kory Marlborough, a senior at Inglewood High School.

Senior Princess Susan Gallegos

Susan Gallegos, another of the senior princesses on the 1987-88 Homecoming Court believes that one should live life to the best of his ability and let others live theirs as they please. She has no particular hobbies, but what she does enjoy is making other happy by helping them.

Susan is also an outstanding member of the Inglewood High School Band. After high school, Susan plans to go to college and major in Psychology and eventually get married and have a family of her own. Susan was escorted by Ron Maatita, an alumni of Inglewood High School.

Senior Princess Claudia Kalil

Claudia Kalil is also a Senior Princess. Her hobbies are dancing and acting. To Claudia, Drama is a very important part of her life. She plans to attend college and major in Psychology. Claudia is a mixture of Arab and Spanish. She was born in Salvador on July 6, 1969. She lived there until the age of 12 when she and her family moved to California.

Her favorite dishes are exotic foods from the Far East. Her favorite song is "We Are The World," because of its meaning and inspiration. One thing she dislikes is people who aren't sincere, but she does enjoy true friends. Claudia wanted to be a princess because she felt it would be a good experience and something she would never forget. She was surprised when she won. Her advice to people is, "if you want something, go after it." Escort: Luis DeLao.

Junior Princess Diara Bass

Name: Diara Bass
Age: 15 Years old
Born: Manhatten, New York
Grew up: Venice & Inglewood California
Motto: "Take one day at a time."
Dislikes: Watching arrogant people disrespect themselves and others.

Favorites: Food: pizza and Chinese
Colors: Orange and Green
Song: "Ador" by Prince
Role Model: My mother, Barbara L. Bass
Best Friends: Jurea Harris and Tara Jackson
School Clubs: MESA
Future Plans: To attend a university and travel
Desire: I wish to dedicate this page to my beloved and departed friend, Harry Lee Addison, Jr. November 6, 1971 - November 4, 1987.

Sophomore Princess Rhonda Morris

“I found my pot of gold at the end of the end of the ‘Rainbow’ when I became 10th grade princess on the 1987-88 Homecoming court,” said princess Rhonda Morris. “This was an inspirational moment in my life. It motivated me to go after what I want. It also showed me that you should never be frightened to take a chance because if you don’t have confidence in yourself, no one else will. My philosophy is, never let fear hold you back from accomplishing your goals.” Rhonda was escorted by Repurt Budd, an I.H.S., senior.

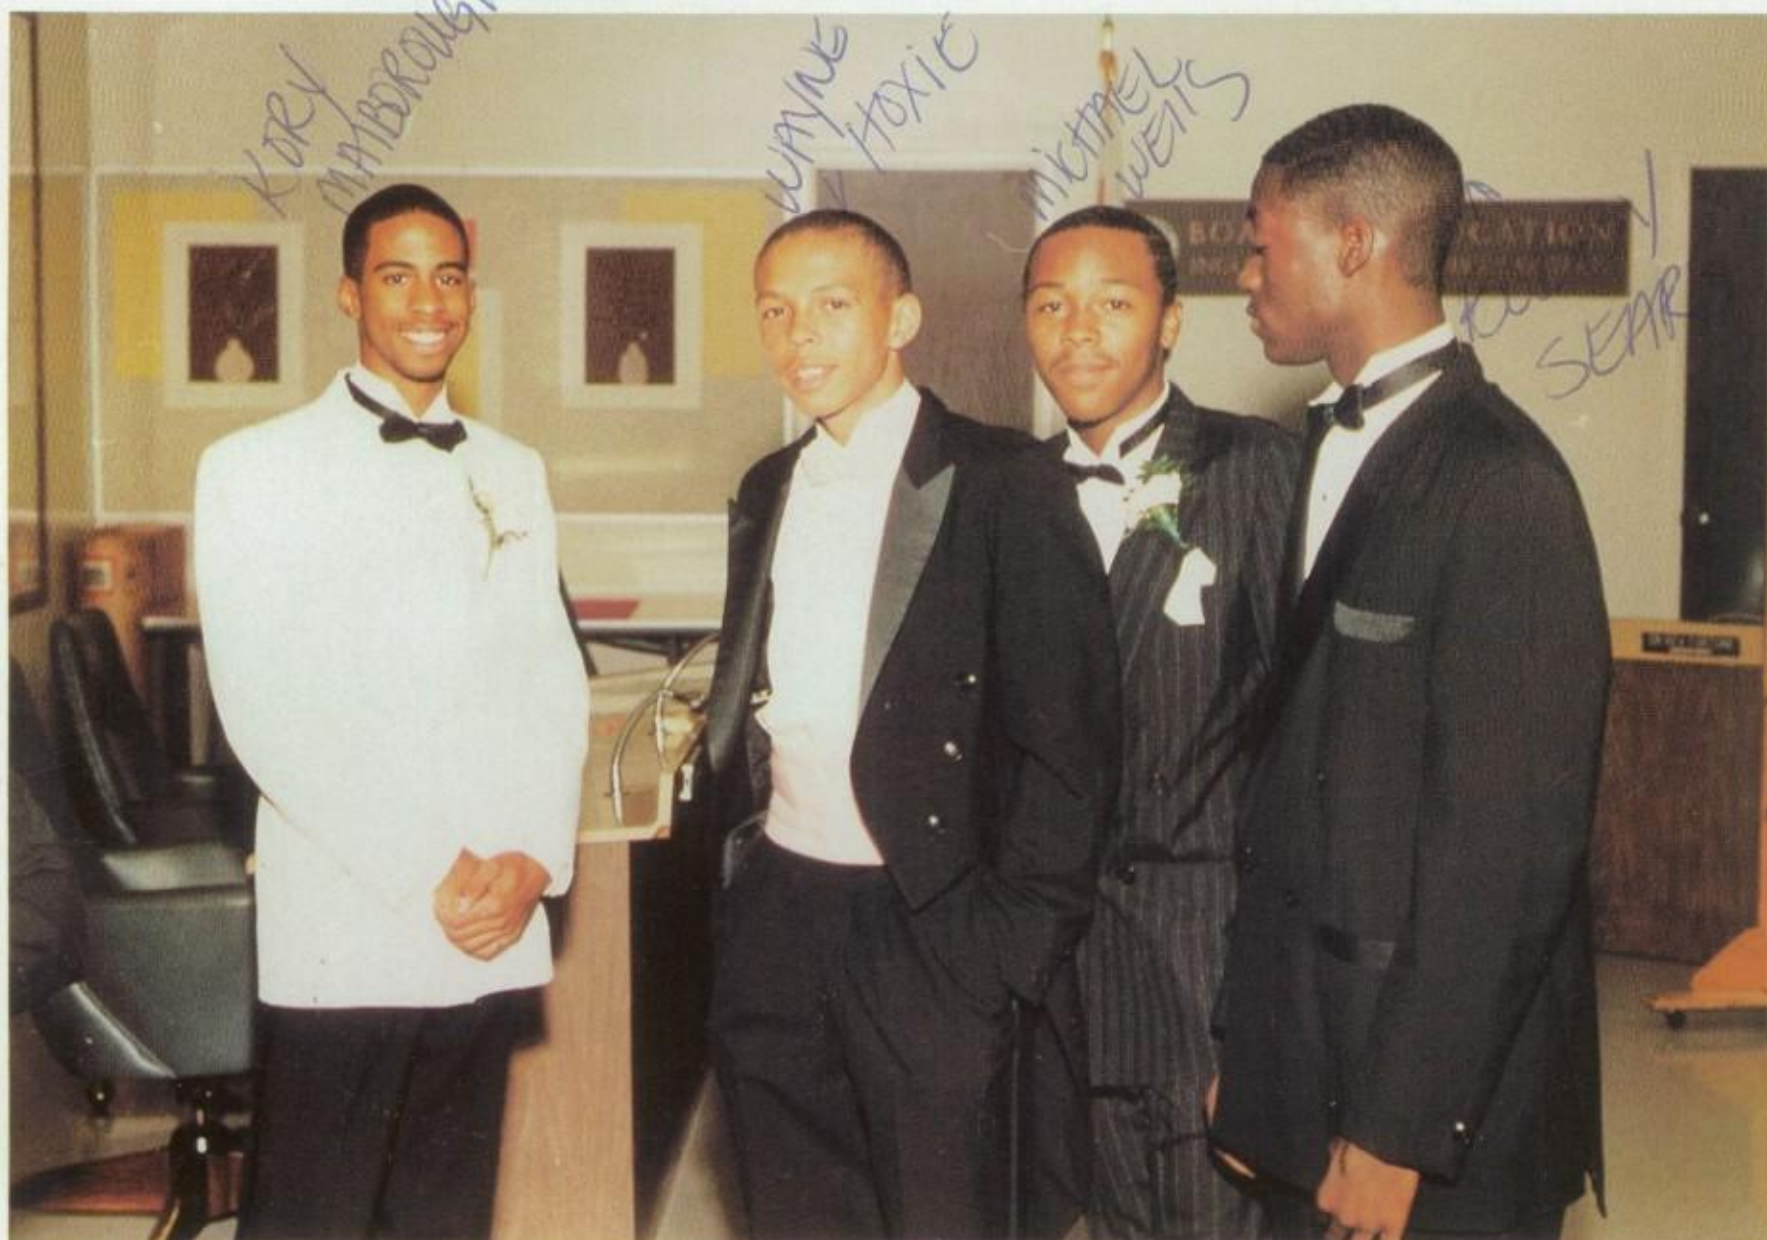

Freshman Princess Brigitte Cobbs

“The reason I wanted to be the Homecoming Princess was at first, just for fun. But then, when I tried out I knew it was much more than I ever expected. Through the grace of God, I over came my weakness of competing against my friends. I made the court after that. What a beautiful experience.” Brigitte Cobbs was escorted by JROTC NCO, Gregory Reynolds, 11th grade.

... Everything from the chauffeur driven limousine to the sultry black Mercedes circled Sentinel Field as the finalists awaited their pot of gold at the end of the "Rainbow."

No one knew who was to be crowned, but each finalist waited patiently until that special name was called.

A special joy filled the air as the last of the court was announced and the surprised and happy young ladies left the field filled with an inner joy of a night they will long remember.

“Emotions”

We now understand death is more than a sacrifice of body and soul. More than a loss of life and love but a never ending trilogy of sorrow, pain and joy, playing with our hearts like a simple child's toy. Will we ever understand the emotions through which we go, or try to face them so very, very slow.

To many of us, Harry was more than a friend. He was a person whom we deeply loved. A person whose laughter and joy came as one and a person words could not express or pictures recapture the memories we now cherish so deeply.

We know that in our hearts Harry will always be here. Only the flesh has gone and soon the fear. The devotion of love now fills the air as we have gathered to show how we are. Accepting this is hard, indeed, but we know we have each other in time of need.

We will often wonder why would such a tragedy occur when all we asked was to be the way we were. We often wonder how will we go on, when each moment we realize, Harry has gone. But one thing we can try to do, is remember the words, "Harry we love you."

Written by Stephen Johnson

Dedicated to Harry Lee Addison, Jr. from Aloria Armstrong with love from the class of 1989, Inglewood High School.

Harry Lee Addison, Jr.

1971 - 1987

Harry Lee Addison, Jr., son of Vivian and Harry Addison, Sr., was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on November 6, 1971. He lived briefly in Orlando, Florida and Oakland, California before moving to Los Angeles in June 1974.

At the age of seven, he joined Cub Scouts, achieving the Webelos rank and the Arrow of the Light award. When he was ten years old, Harry joined Boy Scout Troop 190. In August 1984, he transferred to Troop 238 where he held several leadership posts and became a candidate for the much coveted rank of Eagle Scout. In his pre-teen years, Harry's hobbies included baseball, basketball, bowling, football, soap box and pinewood derbys, for which he received many outstanding performance trophies. As a teenager, he had a passion for surfing, skate boarding and snow skiing.

After graduating from John Hancock Elementary School, Harry attended John Burroughs Junior High. He attended Inglewood High School for two years before his transfer to Univeristy High in September, 1987.

During his enrollment at Inglewood, Harry made many friends, who will miss him dearly. On November 4, 1987, Harry went home to be with the Lord while dozens of relatives and friends supported him and one another in a vigil of love that will long be remembered.

Inglewood High's Donna Harris was selected to sing the Star Spangled Banner at a pre-season luncheon for the Lakers at the Bonaventure Hotel in October. This gave Donna the opportunity to meet many of the Lakers. Since that time, Donna has become friends with Billy Thompson and Byron Scott. Donna is an aspiring gospel singer. She has given many concerts and has met several well respected gospel singers, such as Darlene Coley and Milton Bronson. Donna has also traveled many places giving concerts and singing the National Anthem. In April she performed before the Laker VS Seattle Basketball game. Donna is receiving more offers to sing. She finds it very interesting to divide her time between classes and singing, but manages to do both well. Her inspiring thought is "I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me."

Again students at Inglewood High hosted representatives from YMTF (Youth Motivation Task Force). The program is designed to help keep students in school and motivate them to seek higher learning. The program was coordinated by Mrs. Billy Jackson, who works at Northrop. She was assisted on campus by members of St. Council. Twenty-Seven representatives were present and spoke to many classes encouraging them to stay in school. Some of the companies represented were: TRW, Northrop, Hughes, So. California Edison Co., Pacific Bell Telephone and Rockwell International. This was the ninth visit by the task force.

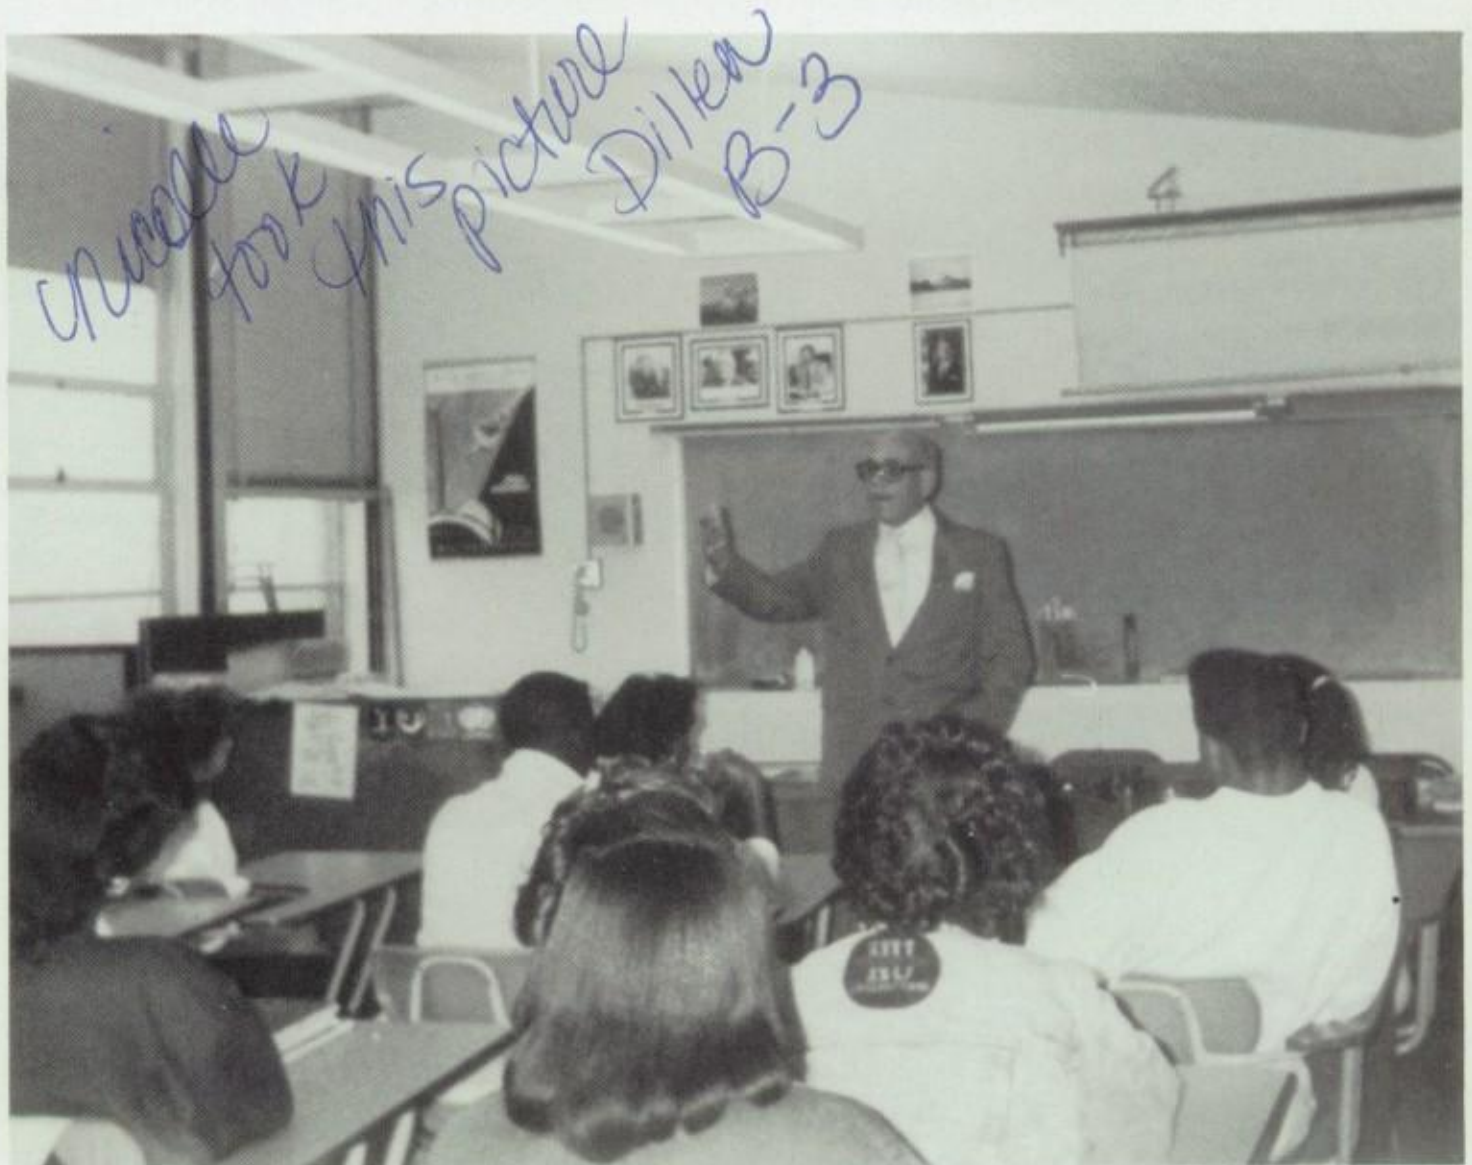

Mrs. Billy Jackson, coordinator of YMTF, gives instructions to the speakers.

Junior Achievement spokespersons visited classrooms to solicit students for the program. This program is designed to give students knowledge and experience of running a company. The students involved in Junior Achievement, form their own company and sell products that they may have designed or created. Many times these have included items such as tee shirts, candy, clocks, calendars, and lights. The profits are shared by the members of the group as the students take delight in seeing their investments rise. Students met at Inglewood on Tuesday nights. At the end of the program, all received a certificate of evaluation.

When Assemblyman Curtis Tucker visited Mr. Dillen's Civics class, he discussed how he got to where he is now. He amazed the class by telling them his lack of interest in politics before his election, but once elected, he enjoys it. He also told the class that many of his employees in his Sacramento as well as his Inglewood office are people from the city and some of the people in the Inglewood office are former Inglewood High graduates. His main point of interest to the students was, if they needed help, he is always available to see them.

History - Inglewood High School

In 1888 there was cause for rejoicing in the newly established town of Inglewood. A red frame railroad station was completed by the California Central Railway making the town an important junction, connecting with either Port Ballona, the harbor at Playa del Rey, or Redondo Beach. The Continuous Brick Kiln Company decided to locate in Inglewood with an annual capacity of 90,000,000 bricks. The growing town of 300 realized it was now time to start an educational system.

Difficult indeed were the beginnings. A livery stable provided the space for the first classroom. The teacher Miss Minnie Walker, had to cope with drafts, smells and 44 students in 6 elementary grades. "Bucephalus Hall," as the livery stable-classroom was known was soon replaced by a two-story brick schoolhouse, built at the cost of $8,889.88. This building provided elementary education, and starting in 1905, space was provided for the 15 students of the newly created Inglewood Union High School.

The Inglewood Union High School was organized by the union of La Dow, Hyde Park, Inglewood and Wiseburn districts. By 1913, El Segundo, Lawndale, Hawthorne and Jefferson had also joined the high school district. A 7½ acre site along the Grevillea Parkway had been purchased, and a $35,000 building had been constructed. In 1914, to meet the needs of a poultry and agricultural area, the district purchased 9½ acres nearby at Kelso and Damask streets. For ten years agriculture was taught to I.U.S.D. students, and the "farm" was a well known experimental agricultural station with pure bred Berkshire brood sows, Holstein and Guernsey cows, a two-acre orchard, a large garden area, 4 acres of alfalfa, and an incubator from which chicks were hatched.

Proud of the campus that was being created, the high school entered in 1915 the Los Angeles County beautification contest, and won first prize of $400. The completed campus, when dedicated in 1916, had six buildings forming a quadrangle. They were joined by lawns, walks and arcades. Adjacent to the school was the Grevillea Parkway, with its California park, Australian park, Japanese gardens, and rose garden. The Japanese gardens bordered the high school and continued over to Crozier school. However, the city found that "the rustic scenery presented too much of a challenge to Inglewood High School students and Crozier pupils," so the Japanese gardens were removed and planted to trees and grass.

Between 1920 and 1925, Inglewood claimed to be the fastest growing city in the United States. The rest of the Centinela Valley was also rapidly growing, and several communities withdrew and went their separate ways. In 1930, Inglewood Union High School District built a second high school in the southern section of the area served, Leuzinger High School. Even so, Inglewood Union High School remained crowded, and by 1938, 2,257 students were enrolled.

The year 1844-45 was marked by the acquisition of a new name for the system. Centinela Valley High School District. In 1954, voters in the city of Inglewood voted to withdraw and create their own elementary and secondary district. Inglewood Unified School District was formed with its two high schools, two junior high schools and numerous elementary schools.

Time and two major earthquakes (1920 and 1933) have altered the physical appearance of the high school. However, as in the past, pride is still taken in the appearance of the school. Inglewood High School continues to meet the challenges of today, as it has in the past.

A special "Thank you" to Mr. Wayne Hester for this information.

We Have It All

From spirit to style to achievement, Inglewood High has it all. At Inglewood we've captured the somewhat strange, yet special mixture of talent, style, spirit, and most importantly, achievements, not only of academics and studies but of goals and dreams.

Inglewood High has it all. It gives us the knowledge to go after our dreams then show us the reward of achieving them. It gives us a new outlook of how the world is today and for many of us it gives special memories in which we will never recapture again. No one truly knows what Inglewood has unless they've experienced it, learned from it, or enjoyed it. Maybe for one year or four years each of us has spent a portion of our lives here, learning, laughing, and sometimes crying from the circumstances which affect our lives. We will well remember our life here in later years when we remember that Inglewood High School had it all.

There is truly no limit to what Inglewood High has. Everything from the thrill of victory to the agony of defeat, comes to us in several forms and fashions. We rejoiced when teams brought us to victory and cried in astonishment when they lost by a few points. We looked when the new fashions were beginning to surface, and laughed when the old ones grew outdated.

We even cried when tragedy struck our hearts and smiled when report cards improved. Many schools do not have it all they will never know of the collage of things we enjoyed so much through the past year, and most of all they will never know the love that filled the school making everything we've achieved possible. Not only the love of one another but the love of life and the love of achieving more. In more ways then we'll ever know Inglewood High has it all!

Mrs. Trudy Johnson

For 25 Years of Faithful Service

We dedicate the 1987-88 GREEN AND WHITE to Mrs. Trudy Johnson for 25 years of service and dedication to Inglewood High School. During her tenure here, she has worked in many offices and held many positions. These have included Student Services, Counseling and Attendance Office. She has worked with nine principals and is still going strong.

To tell you a little bit about Mrs. Johnson - she has two grown children, a son who lives in Palm Springs with his family and a daughter who lives in Hawaii with her family. Both are graduates of Inglewood High School. However, her "heart throb" is Mega, her dog, who can get away with almost anything in the world. She is spoiled beyond belief! (She loves a bowl of oatmeal for breakfast). During her spare time, she visits her grandchildren and spoils them with toys and presents.

To you Mrs. Trudy Johnson for 25 years of dedication and hard work, we dedicate the 1987-88, GREEN WHITE.

Dr. Liza Daniels

For Sincere Dedication to the Students at I.H.S.

Dr. Lisa Daniels is a native Californian. She graduated from Manuel Arts High School. She obtained her Bachelors of Arts from U.C.L.A., majoring in Dance, her Masters of Arts from U.S.C., majoring in Psychology and the ultimate, a Ph.D. from U.C.L.A., majoring in Research and Evaluation.

She has been a resident of the city of Inglewood since 1972. She is married and is the proud mother of three children, two are in high school and one in elementary. Her most favorite place to visit is Mexico, but she appreciates quiet places as well. Some of her hobbies are cooking, sewing, and reading. Her primary goal in life is to write a book. She is very proud of the students and staff at Inglewood High School because she feels that everybody works to make the school as excellent as it is. She encourages the students to continue to strive hard to achieve their goals. The 1987-88 yearbook staff would like to dedicate to Dr. Daniels, this volume of the GREEN AND WHITE for the support and dedication she has given to the students of Inglewood High.

A Lasting Friendship

We seem to spend our lives planning
 For the future . . . tomorrow is always
 In our thoughts, while today slips
 Away, and yesterday sometimes returns
 To Remind us of our mistakes.
 We try to hold the special moments
 Forgetting that the best is yet to
 Come; that tomorrow is another day,
 Another chance to take, another
 Dream to fulfill.
 Relationships don't always succeed,
 Friendships sometimes change, but
 I want you to know, no matter what Else happens to us . . . I will always
 Be here for you. Together we'll
 Create new dreams and take our
 Chances. If we fail, we won't hurt
 So badly, because a friend's caring
 Love heals all wounds, no matter
 How deep or painful.
 This is for you, my special friend,
 Given with a special kind of love.
 Thank you for the times in my life
 You were such an important part of
 And for being the unique essence
 Of our lasting friendship.

Best Friends Forever
'Patty G. and Lucy B'

Now is Your Chance!

Ask yourself if you understand the world today
Then listen to the words you say.
Some never listen, even to their mind
And now they see the world is far from kind.
They suffer in their tragedy and their pain
Holding on to memories and time so sane.
They wish or pray they could relive the past
But this is reality, and the pain must last.
Will you go on and make a success of your life
Or will you fail and die by the knife?
Tears may fall if we hear the news
But we must go on for it's what you choose.
So be strong in mind and merciful of heart
Soon this world you will be apart.

I fear for you if you don't try your best
And I pray if you give so much less.
Now is your chance to enter the world so strong
Even if you fail or go so wrong.
Now is your chance to test your strength of mind
No matter how wicked or how kind.
Now is your chance, now is your chance, please don't let it go
For your life will pass so very, very slow.
'Filled with memories of what could have been
Lost innocence and forgotten sin.
Our lives are worth much more indeed
So help yourself and learn to lead.
Kory Marlborough & Stephen Johnson

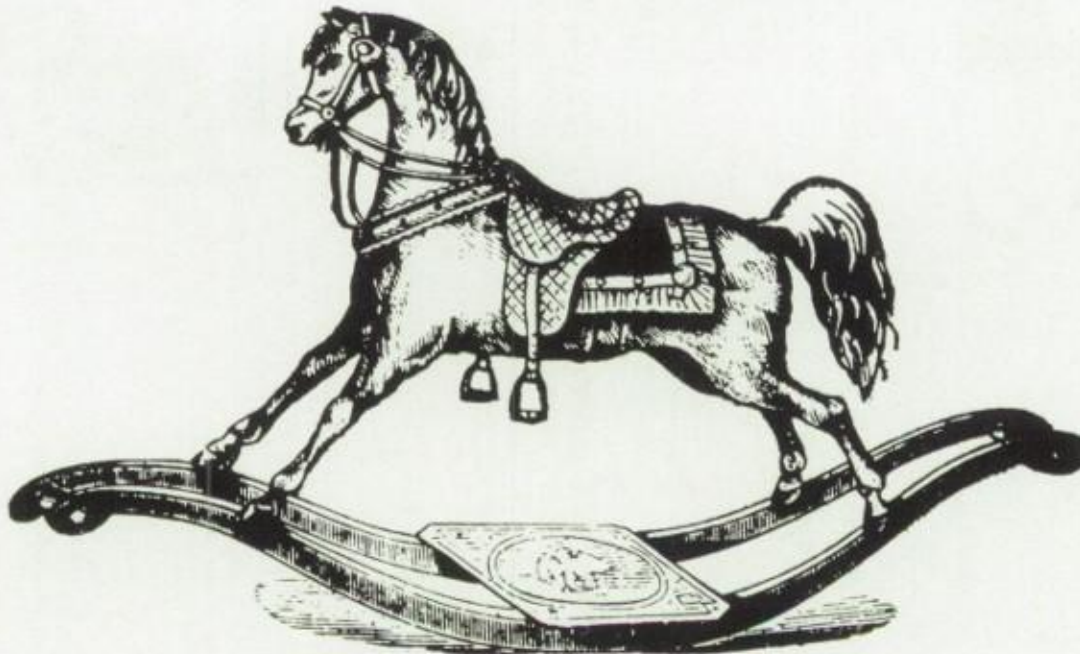

Eric's Eyes

Eyes so deep, so dark
To stare into them
Scares you,
Infinitely steals you
'Cause they capture
The moon.

Eyes so deep, so dark
It's a crime to think
What you're thinking about
Him.
Oh, but don't stop!
The suspense is what he wants you to feel - anticipation.
You want for him
To touch you. But you move
In fear of infinity, fullness.

And then those eyes!
And, ohhh, they literally caress your every move.
Eyes so deep, so dark
Yet he watches every
Move my lips make
I'm captivated by Eric's eyes.

A.S.B. President Ayesha Lindsey

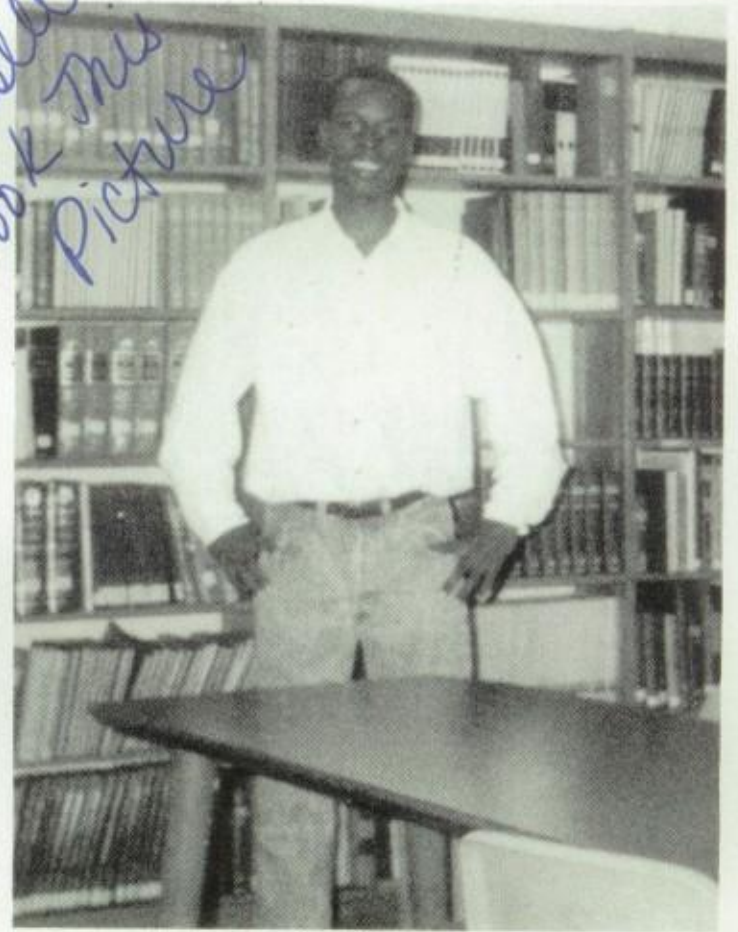

My name is Ayesha Lindsey, Associated Student Body President. For the past four years I have become closely knitted to the students as well as the staff, which in return has been a challenging but rewarding experience. I have been involved in U.C.O., C.S.F., MESA and PCAT. Being a leader has meant that I have learned that with rain there will always be sunshine. I LOVE YOU all and remember: "Reach for the Stars, but if you miss, land on the moon!"

My name is Jerry Sanders and I am Senior Class President. I have attended Inglewood High School for 3½ years. I am very proud to be able to represent so many unique and distinguished individuals in the Senior Class. I have participated in Varsity Basketball and cross-country. I plan to attend California State University at Dominguez Hills and major in Criminal Justice. To my fellow seniors, "Keep your head high and keep a smile!"

200 Years . . .

Americans recently celebrated the 200th anniversary of the Constitution. Some may think the celebration had nothing to do with you, but it did. Others, on the other hand, may have had little interest in the Constitution without the knowledge that the Constitution greatly affects us all.

The main concepts of the Constitution are those that we as Americans take for granted. We all should reconsider our feelings about the Constitution and its essential meaning, Freedom.

Freedom is a precious resource which must be utilized effectively in order to be effective. It is always good to keep in mind the less fortunate, those people who are living in impoverished and starving countries who aren't as "free" as we are. Our Constitution gives these people hope and instills in them the logical idea that if one person is free, they can be also.

It is up to us to maintain the Constitution or it will fade away. Always remember and keep in mind: We are the future of America. Without us, there is no hope for the survival of the Constitution.

We do not choose to be born. We do not choose our parents. We do not choose our historical epoch, or the country of our birth, or the immediate circumstances of our upbringing. We do not, most of us, choose to die; nor do we chose the time or conditions of our death. But within all this realm of choicelessness, we do choose how we shall live: courageously or in cowardice, honorably or dishonorably, with purpose or adrift. We decide what is important and what is trivial in life. We decide that what makes us significant is either what we do or what we refuse to do. But no matter how indifferent the universe may be to our choices and decisions, these choices and decisions are ours to make. We decide. We choose. And as we decide and choose, so are our lives formed. In the end, forming our own destiny is what ambition is about. Congratulations, Seniors!
